Water Election

Approximately 11 per cent of Santa Ana's voters had registered their opinion on the proposed $6,620,000 county flood control and water conservation bond issue by early this afternoon.

The figure is an increase of 2 percent over the number voting at this time on Oct. 4, when the first election on the proposition was held, and gave rise to forecasts of an unusually heavy vote, perhaps close to 50 per cent.

1647 Cast Here
A total of 1647 voters had cast their ballots shortly after noon today, as compared to 1355 voting at the same time at the last election. Santa Ana's registration is 15,292 for this election.

In Anaheim a similar increase in voting was noted, 593 out of a registration of 4738 having voted by noon. In the last election a total of 542 votes, or 11 per cent, was cast by noon.

Increase in Fullerton
Increases were also noted in Fullerton, where 12 per cent had

ASK THE JOURNAL

Santa Ana citizens who are anxious to know the results of today's $6,620,000 water bond election may get up-to-the-minute information by telephoning The Journal tonight after 7 o'clock.

been cast, as opposed to a vote of 10 per cent in October.

Efforts of campaign committees of both proponents and opponents of the measure, together with an increased interest in the water question, were credited with the increase in balloting.

Polls Open Until 7
Polls were opened this morning at 6 a. m. and will remain open until 7 p. m. The proposition calls for the issuing of $6,620,000 in county bonds, to mature in 40 years. If passed, the federal government will give the county a grant of $6,574,000.

The project entails the construction of a seven-dam system of flood control and preservation throughout the county, with the principal unit to be built at the Prado site, in Riverside county.

FIVE SAVED AS BARGE BURNS

NEW YORK, Dec. 19. (AP)—The 2370-ton coal barge Marie de Ronde burst into flames off Long Island's Atlantic coast today and coast guards, fearing that it might be a passenger vessel, sent 16 rescue craft racing to her side. The barge was in the tow of the tug Wellfleet.

The coast guards reported the crew of five had been saved.

FLOOD MENACE CITED!
Ed Ainsworth Backs Bonds

Orange county's proposed flood control and water conservation program, a bond issue for which voters today were casting their ballots, was given the support of Ed Ainsworth, Los Angeles Times columnist, today in his "Along El Camino Real." He commented as follows:

To the polls will march all of Orange county today in a vital water bond election, the most vital in years.

Feeling has run high in the complicated battle.

Like whirlwinds in support of the $6,620,000 bond issue for flood control and conservation, have gone forth George Kellogg, Tom McFadden and W. H. Spurgeon, Jr.

From one town to another has gone J. Frank Burke, the ex-publisher of the Santa Ana Register, battling the bonds.

The government stands ready to provide a $6,574,000 grant if the county votes its share.

James Irvine, the colossus of Orange county whose influence is tremendous, has not come out in open opposition to the bonds, yet he is generally supposed to be combating them.

This situation has fanned oratory to fever heat on both sides.

A lot of outside questions and belauding issues have crept into the whole campaign.

Now it's no business of mine. But from the standpoint of an impartial observer outside the turmoil of the arena, the bond issue looks like an opportunity that the county will not have again.

Two things are certain.

Orange county always is menaced by the specter of a disastrous flood.

And it needs an assured water supply.

The government will pay half the bill now. If there are some non-essentials in the program, some "gravy," the fact remains that the bulk of the work is recognized as necessary and beneficial.

If a great flood or a great drought should come in the future and the country was unprepared to meet it because it failed to vote the bonds, it might be exceedingly sorry.

It appears that every citizen should cast his ballot today with that sober thought in mind.

Governors of four states, ousted from their official positions for asserted friendship with Calles, stepped down. Dispatches said the changes in administration in Sonora, Sinaloa, Durango and Guanajuato were accomplished peacefully.

Similar charges of conspiracy were preferred against five senators and Louis N. Morones, former minister of labor and economy, the latter being accused by the senate of having urged workers in Manzanillo to revolt.

Official Says Boy, 15, Admitted Set Fires In School Here

A 15-year-old Julia Lathrop Junior High school student, arrested Tuesday for the theft of $336 from the Seventeenth street pharmacy, today admitted to Fire Marshal Elmer Gates, the latter said, that he had set two fires in the Seventh Day Adventist schoolhouse, on Oct. 25 and Nov. 7.

The boy, who previously had assertedly confessed to the theft at the pharmacy, said he set the fires in the schoolhouse so that he would not have to attend there.

"My folks wanted me to go to school there, but I didn't want to. That's why I tried to burn the schoolhouse down," Fire Marshal Gates said the boy told him.

Arrested by Detective Lieutenant Charles Wolford on the theft charges, he confessed, the officer said, to having taken the money on two occasions.

"Some of it I bought things with," he said. "The rest I spent just fooling around in Los Angeles, Long Beach and here at home."

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 19. (AP)—Gen. Elias Calles, branded a "traitor" by the national revolutionary party he founded, defied the government's demand today that he leave the country.

"Mexico is my country, and only by violence can they make me leave," he declared after the national senate wrote him out of the party as a "traitor to the revolutionary program and a conspirator against the nation's institutions."

Governors Ousted

Governors of four states, ousted from their official positions for asserted friendship with Calles, stepped down. Dispatches said the changes in administration in Sonora, Sinaloa, Durango and Guanajuato were accomplished peacefully.

Similar charges of conspiracy were preferred against five senators and Louis N. Morones, former minister of labor and economy, the latter being accused by the senate of having urged workers in Manzanillo to revolt.

Life In Danger
The charges were referred to the attorney general, who will decide whether the men are to be arrested and brought to trial.

Calles admitted his life is in danger and "they may assassinate me," Calles, who returned from self-imposed exile in Los Angeles last week after ruling Mexico as a dictator for four years, denied he was leading the country towards communism.

CONVICT ONE IN MASS MURDER

PORT ORCHARD, Wash., Dec. 19. (AP)—The Erland's Point "mass murder" trial jury of eight men and four women convicted Leo Hall, 33, today of first degree murder. They recommended the death penalty. Peggy Peterson Paulos, his co-defendant, was acquitted.

Trial Judge H. G. Sutton gave the case to the jury yesterday, 10 days after the opening of the trial of Hall and Mrs. Paulos on first degree murder charges in connection with the slaying of four men and two women in the Frank Flieder home at Erland's Point on March 28, 1934.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 19. (AP)—Heavy ground swells rolled in on Southern California beaches today, causing damage in at least two places.

The giant waves destroyed a boat landing at Hermosa Beach and so crippled the pier that it was closed. Twelve of the pilings under it were washed out. Two hundred feet of a pier at Ventura were smashed.

From Santa Barbara to San Diego came reports of high swells although the tide was about normal.

DOYLESTOWN, Pa., Dec. 19. (AP)—Caleb Milne, IV, held four days by kidnapers, was abandoned by his abductors without the payment of a cent of the $50,000 ransom they had demanded, the department of justice announced today.

The 24-year-old grandson of a wealthy retired textile manufacturer of Philadelphia, lured from his New York City apartment late Saturday by a note that said his grandfather was ill. Was found shortly before midnight—dazed, doped, bruised and trussed—beside a roadside ditch near here.

Not Questioned
Today he was recovering in a Doylestown hospital. Doctors said his condition was not serious. Federal agents, who had the actor and mystery story writer in technical custody made no effort during the night to question him in detail. Physicians said he should be allowed to rest.

Milne was found by S. R. Gerhart, a Philadelphia salesman, and R. Morris Ughart, an inventor, who were driving along the old York road about midnight. Four youths, passing by in another car shortly afterward, assisted in getting the half-conscious youth to Lahaska, Pa., nearby, where he received first aid before being brought here.

Marked Of Needle
Milne's eyes and lips were sealed with cruel tape that criss-crossed his face. His overcoat, pinned tightly about him, was a strait-jacket. There were no socks on his feet. But he wore no shoes.

TODD WITNESS NOT HERE

Talked to Daughter by Phone

Charles Smith, 70-year-old treasurer of the Thelma Todd cafe near Santa Monica, and missing witness in the coroner's inquest into Miss Todd's death, called his daughter in Santa Ana Tuesday night, but did not come to Santa Ana yesterday, inquiries by The Journal disclosed last night.

Mr. Smith's daughter, Mrs. Harry Polk, 211 East Edinger street, verified the fact that he called her. "We talked over the tragedy," she said, "and discussed Christmas plans. He said nothing of coming to Santa Ana."

Mrs. Polk said her father was "grief-stricken" over Miss Todd's death, and did not know how it had happened.

Search for Mr. Smith was launched from Los Angeles yesterday when Roland West, manager of Miss Todd's cafe, testified at the coroner's inquest that Mr. Smith lived over the garage where Miss Todd's body was found, and that he would have heard the car started or driven in on the night

JURY PICKING IS UPHELD

Appellate Court Rules
System Attacked By Attorney, Is Okeh

The attack on methods of picking juries in superior courts here, brought up in a criminal case against Frank Rosa and Faustino Saucedo, met tough opposition today in a ruling by the fourth district court of appeals. The conviction of the two men, charged with statutory assault, was upheld by the court.

Deputy District Attorney Preston Turner today received notice of the higher court's action.

In trial of the case here, and later in the appeal, Defense Attorney N. D. Meyer contended that the jury panel was not selected according to law. He particularly called attention to the fact that certain jurors had made application to the county clerk to be placed on the jury panel.

Mr. Meyer asserted that this made them ineligible.

Today's notice of the ruling by the court of appeals, upholding the conviction, in effect establishes the legality of the method whereby the jurors were selected. The higher court's ruling possibly could be changed if a rehearing were granted, or if the matter were appealed to the supreme court.

Saucedo was sentenced to Folson on charges of criminal assault and kidnapping. Rosa was sentenced to San Quentin on the criminal assault charge. An American woman was involved in the asserted attack.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 19. (AP)—Detective Chief Joseph Taylor today ordered re-questioning of two witnesses in the investigation of the death of Thelma Todd, blond film actress, and the quizzing of a third.

Taylor said he would question Roland West, the actress' business partner; Charles Smith, treasurer of her cafe, and Robert J. Anderson. West and Smith, Taylor said, will be examined on West's testimony at yesterday's inquest that Smith, who lived in an apartment above the garage where Miss Todd was found dead, should have heard her automobile if it was started.

Local Woman's Father
(Mr. Smith is the father of Mrs. Henry Polk, 211 East Edinger street, Santa Ana. He was reported by witnesses in the coroner's inquest yesterday to have been visiting here, but investigation by The Journal disclosed that he did not call at his daughter's home. He later was found to have spent the day at his apartment.)

Anderson will be asked again about his story of putting the car in the garage at 2 a. m. last Sunday.

The coroner's jury found that Miss Todd died of carbon monoxide poisoning and that her death apparently was accidental.

Saw Her Sunday
Mrs. Roland West, wife of the actress' business partner, told police today she saw Miss Todd in Hollywood at 11 p. m. Sunday, more than 12 hours after the supposed time of her death.

Mrs. West said she glimpsed of Miss Todd came as she was returning from the San Fernando valley Sunday night and turned onto Hollywood boulevard.

"I saw a chocolate-colored phaeton which I immediately recognized as belonging to Miss Todd," she declared.

"I hurried my own car and drew as close as possible. Sitting next to the driver was Thelma Todd. I recognized her from a smart hat (Please Turn to Page 2, Col. 2)

SLOT MACHINES
CONFISCATED

Not a slot machine of the lever-pulling, nickel-dumping type could be found in Santa Ana today, following Sheriff Logan Jackson's quiet, but official raid against the machines in unincorporated areas around the city yesterday.

Five of the devices were picked up in cafes and roadhouses around Santa Ana. Owners of the machines which had been operated in Santa Ana for some time evidently removed them over night, Sheriff Jackson said, when none could be found in the city today.

The sheriff issued warning that he intended to continue picking up the slot machines wherever he found them in the county.

PIERRE, S. D., Dec. 19.—I see where young George Vanderbilt, the millionaire, got marooned on a reef in a bad Australian storm. He and the missus got out of sight of the mess wagon for two days and George found out that gold was not much good for eating. So with spear in hand he starts out looking for meat while his bride waits for her man to bring back the kill. Well, after he had done his best, George came marching back with a crab over his shoulder. He was as proud as a young Sioux Injun with a 400-pound buck deer for his bride.

I think George does just fine. It was his first attempt and he didn't want to tackle something he couldn't kill.

LEAGUE FORMALLY THROWS OUT ANGLO-FRENCH PEACE PROPOSAL

ENGLAND NOT TO CONTINUE SUGGESTION

Prime Minister States Plan Is 'Dead'; Black Victory Reported

By the Associated Press
Proposals for peace in the undeclared East African war were formally shelved today by the council of the League of Nations. Subsequently, Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin told the house of commons that the Franco-British peace plan was "absolutely and completely dead" and the British government would make no attempt to resurrect it.

In defense of Sir Samuel Hoare, resigned foreign secretary, Mr. Baldwin said the peace plan represented the minimum to which it was possible to obtain the agreement "and attach vital importance to Anglo-French solidarity."

British and French ministers were handed identical notes by the Ethiopian government, deploring the Anglo-French peace suggestions although not actually rejecting them.

Sir Samuel resigned yesterday because of public protest against the peace plan.

After the league council had taken its action, an Italian spokesman declared: "The league has killed the Franco-British proposal and now must take the responsibility for what happens."

Ethiopian Victory

On the battlefield both sides announced activity. Dedmetch Ayale, commander of Ethiopian forces on the west bank of the strategic Takaze river, reported that his army had defeated the Italians in a major battle near Aksum. "The Italians fled in great disorder, leaving the battlefield strewn with dead," he reported.

Meanwhile, the Italian government announced from Rome that Italian planes had bombed Ethiopian troops concentrated along the Takaze river while quiet prevailed elsewhere in the war zone.

BREAKFAST CLUB HEARS STORY ON BIRTH OF CHRIST

A group of Santa Ana business men gathered early today in the Main cafeteria for the meeting of the Breakfast club, and heard an address by the Rev. Harry E. Owings on the story of Christmas. The Rev. Owings told club members the story of the birth of Christ as related in the second chapters of Matthew and Luke.

"One thing in particular impressed me concerning the story of Christ's birth, and that is that the common folk and the mighty alike came to pay Him homage," the Rev. Mr. Owings said. "The same holds true even today. I think that we all should take time out on Christmas day to pay our respects and offer our praises to Him, whose birthday we are about to celebrate."

The musical program consisted of Christmas carols, including "Silent Night," being Edward Hall, Jerry Hall, Art Cannon, Mrs. Charles Hall and Betty Jean Koster. Packages of toys were distributed among members by Santa Claus, impersonated by Hunter Leach. The toys were later turned over to Earl Morrow to be distributed to the needy children of Santa Ana.

Past President Edward Hall was presented with a table set as a token of appreciation for his services during the past year.

BAR MEETING TONIGHT
Orange county attorneys will be guests of the San Bernardino county bar association at a meeting in Fontana tonight. The affair will be a tri-county gathering in which Riverside county attorneys also will be present.

MORE ABOUT MILNE

The bare foot was swollen. His wrists were bound to his knees with hemp. His right arm showed marks as of a needle.

One of the men who said was: "Don't stick those needles in me."

New York police had listed Milne merely as "missing," but J. Edgar Hoover, director of the bureau of investigation of the department of justice, stated in Washington today that his department was convinced it was a case of kidnapping.

A picked detail of G-men—eight men who have worked on previous kidnapping cases which the government has solved—were concentrated in this territory. Two came from Chicago by plane, two from New York, and four from Washington.

All Carry 'Cases'
The eight agents reported to George Harvey, chief of the Philadelphia squad. When they left him it was in pairs; and one man in each pair carried one of the black cases in which submachine guns usually are kept.

Members of Milne's family, including his mother, reached the hospital within a few hours of being notified the youth had been found.

Two miles of acorns were planted at Pratt, Kan., to provide seedlings for government shelterbelt projects.

GOBLE'S GOBBLERS STOLEN

Their 'Wives' Taken, Too

Deputies under the direction of Sheriff Logan Jackson are searching today for thieves who last night raided two poultry ranches in Orange county and made away with approximately $70 worth of turkeys and squabs. The first victim to report such a theft was Hugh Goble who had some gobblers and six turkey hens stolen. Mr. Goble's gobblers and the gobblers' six "wives" were taken from the gobblers' pen on Mr. Goble's ranch in Barber City. Mr. Goble's gobblers were being raised for the Christmas market, and he estimated today that the gobblers and the hens combined were worth $35.

The second victim was C. P. Mattern whose ranch is near Venano road and Seventeenth street, west of Santa Ana. Thieves who entered his poultry ranch stole approximately 60 squabs, valued at $55.

MORE ABOUT TODD

I knew she wore and also her blond curls.

"Driving the phaeton was a foreign-looking man. He wore a salt-and-pepper hat and an overcoat to match it. He was of dark complexion, but before I could get a good look at him they turned around the corner. I followed the car as far as Santa Monica boulevard where they turned west and sped away."

She Is Positive
Mrs. West, whose estranged husband was co-partner with Miss Todd in a seaside cafe venture, said she was positive the blonde haired woman was the actress.

"She was a bosom friend of mine and I have ridden in that phaeton many times," added Mrs. West.

A friend, Mrs. Ardell, said she had talked with Mrs. West Monday afternoon and told her of Miss Todd's death, at which Mrs. West exclaimed that she had seen her the night before.

Start Analysis
Upon the request of the grand jury foreman, County Chemist R. J. Abernathy started today a complete chemical analysis of Miss Todd's vital organs which will take several days.

Presumably it is to learn whether or not indications that those of carbon monoxide poisoning are present. If such are found, they would strengthen a possibility that the actress was unconscious before the running motor of her automobile in the partly closed garage created a fatal quantity of monoxide gas.

Wrecks Theory
Mrs. West's statement tended to tear down the carefully built up theory that Miss Todd died an accidental death, warning herself early Monday morning against her return from a Hollywood party by running the engine of her car.

The statement supported the inquest testimony of Mrs. Wallace Ford, actor's wife, that she talked over the telephone with Miss Todd at 4:10 p. m. Sunday about bringing a mystery guest to the Ford's cocktail party.

Met Mystery Guest
It tended to show that Miss Todd met the mystery guest, that they went driving, that she kept a rendezvous, not at the party, but with death.

County Autopsy Surgeon A. F. Wagner, who made preliminary report fixing the time of the actress' death as between 6 and 8 a. m. Sunday, said today the death could have taken place anywhere from 12 to 30 hours before the body was found.

New Information
Other salient developments in the death riddle included the statement of the grand jury foreman, George Rochester, that he had been given new, independent information, pointing to a possible solution of the case, and Potts' avowal of determination to locate the "missing guest" of the Fords' party.

Star witness in the day-long inquest was Roland West, former film director and producer, who told the jurors he had "locked out" Miss Todd at 2 a. m. Sunday from her living quarters above the cafe which they jointly operated.

Shared Rooms
"She occupied one-half of the rooms," he said. "I the other. They are split by sliding doors, covered by drapes."

"I bolted her door from the inside, not knowing she had only one key to the whole building."

That key, testimony developed, was to the side door which West bolted shut.

May Whitehead, the star's maid, previously testified she had given Miss Todd a key and that she could have gotten into her apartments had she wanted to.

Was Best Friend
West parried the questions of Deputy George Johnson concerning his association with the actress.

He said, "she was my best friend." Asked if she had intimated she might leave him to remarry Pat Di Cico, her former husband and wealthy sportsman, West answered: "She couldn't leave me. That would be impossible, inasmuch as we had no connection."

Today a legion of friends said farewell as her body lay in state upon a casket-couch of orchid satin in a Los Angeles mortuary. Private funeral services will be conducted in the afternoon at Forest Lawn Memorial Park, Glendale by the Rev. Harold Proppe of Hollywood Baptist church. Cremation will follow.

Extra police reserves were called to the undertaking parlors but there was no disturbance.

Many Flowers
Miss Todd was in a half couch casket, lined with satin. The body was in the front part of the casket, roped off so that spectators were kept 30 feet from the coffin.

The actress was attired in lounging pajamas of blue satin.

DATA DUE ON SPREADING OF WATER

Data requested by the county water district in regard to water spreading by Riverside and San Bernardino counties in the Santa Ana river will be supplied this week. C. A. Palmer, secretary of the district's board of directors, was so informed today in a letter from Chauncey McFarland, Riverside attorney representing upper county water interests.

At the last meeting of the water district directors they notified the upper county groups that data was desired in the immediate future. It is needed in negotiations being carried on for settlement of a lawsuit brought by James Irvine to determine rights of water users on the river. The water district has not been a party to the suit, but it was understood after the last meeting that it would be difficult for it to remain out of litigation unless the desired data was supplied.

The Irvine suit seeks to prevent water spreading by the upper counties, adverse to the rights of Orange county users.

STREET CHANGE PLAN FAVORED
The county planning commission today gave its approval to the project for restoring old Spanish names to streets at San Juan Capistrano. A resolution addressed to the board of supervisors was adopted, urging granting a petition before the board for restoring the names.

The matter was brought before the planners at their meeting in the courthouse annex today by a committee representing the Spanish California club. Those in the group were Jose Abila, Enrique Abila, Mattias H. Velarde and Alfonso Yorba.

L. Deming Tilton, consultant for the planning body, was authorized to continue studies for a proposed county park on an island that has been built at the head of Newport bay.

With a high neck. The face was composed and natural.

There was a profusion of flowers, including a large vase of yellow roses at the head of the casket, yellow chrysanthemums, and white roses.

In the center of the chapel was one of Miss Todd's most recent photographs, framed in silver, and placed on a small table.

Japanese Slay Mongolians

MALONEY WINS $6666 ACTION

F. O. Schroeder today failed in his attempt to get a $6666.66 judgment from the former Santa Ana Times and its owners, which he sought on the contention that he had not been paid according to an agreement under which he secured a purchaser for the newspaper. Superior Judge G. K. Scovel dismissed the case on a motion filed by Carl Heim, attorney for the defense.

Mr. Schroeder secured a $6666.66 judgment in a trial here nearly five years ago. On Dec. 23, 1932, a motion for a new trial was granted to the defendants, Dan E. Maloney, the estate of the late M. C. Maloney, and the Crocker First Federal Trust company, executors of the estate.

The new trial was scheduled to start today. After Mr. Heim's motion for dismissal was argued, Judge Scovel ruled it was the duty of the court to dismiss the case because of negligence on the part of the plaintiff in bringing the matter to trial. Nearly three years have elapsed since the new trial was granted. The law makes it mandatory to dismiss such an action after three years and the court held that the three-year period has so nearly elapsed that the intent of the law would be unfulfilled if he did not exercise his discretion to dismiss the case.

The action was brought in the name of D. S. Phillips, to whom Mr. Schroeder had assigned his claim.

HUGE TAX FACES UTILITY HEAD
NEWARK, N. J., Dec. 19. (AP)—Acting Collector of Internal Revenue Charles V. Duffy, Jr., today notified Howard C. Hopson, head of the Associated Gas and Electric system, he must pay $1,521,604.13 personal income taxes in arrears from 1929 to 1933 inclusive. Income taxes of $3,588,508.72 must also be paid by one of Hopson's New Jersey companies, Duffy announced.

ORANGE MAN FOUND DEAD IN GROVE

Ill health was thought by Orange police and county officials to have been the motive for the suicide of Robert A. Price, 52, whose body was found in an orange grove one-half mile west of the county hospital shortly before noon today.

Mr. Price disappeared from his home at 9 o'clock last night, according to Orange police. His family was not alarmed, as they thought he was irrigating in his orange grove, west of the county hospital.

Police said today that Mr. Price shot himself with a rifle, probably about 10 o'clock last night. He had been in ill health for the past three years, they reported.

VICTORY FOR BONUS SEEN

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19. (AP)—Senator Byrnes (D., Cal.) predicted today that the bill he and Senator Steiwer (R., Ore.) have introduced for cash payment of the bonus in 1938 would pass at the coming congress even if vetoed by President Roosevelt.

His prediction was made shortly after Speaker Byrnes of the house told reporters he believed both house and senate would dispose of the bonus issue by Feb. 1. Byrnes made his statement at the White House after explaining the provisions of his bill to the President.

Explaining his bill to newspapermen, the senator said it would provide a 97 per cent cash payment immediately, but that veterans holding their bonus certificates for two more years would get the full face value.

Here and There With The Journal's

WANT to buy any tickets to the Rose Bowl game on New Year's day?

Nope, this isn't Column Left on Mistah Rogers' sport page. Just a little advice to those who wish to attend the game and are having trouble getting their ducats. Get in touch with Dr. Glenn Curtis at Brea. He's supposed to be one of the best ticket-getters in Orange county, if not the state. At least, that's what his friends say.

The Doc has been on the catching end of numerous jibes due to the Rose Bowl tickets, we hear. A little bird in a La Salle coupe whispered a story about the well known Brea physician and the tickets the other day. Here she is: Seems that Doc was with some prominent countians at a football game at Stanford. The ticket subject was brought up and the difficulty in obtaining the precious ducats mentioned. The doctor pooh-poohed the idea, and told one of our best known legislators that he'd get the tickets for him through a Los Angeles club.

The other day the club expressed regrets. They couldn't even get tickets for themselves, officials moaned.

So we're wondering if Doc Curtis and his friends are going to the game. On second thought, maybe no one'd better ask him about the tickets. He might be touchy.

Here's the first installment of the argument about seals. McDonald White, Laguna Beach, stands up for the animals. We've yet to hear from enemies of the fish-killers from Newport. We gave 'em their chance. Here's what Don says:

"Since Brick Gaines has been publicly dusted off the seal question along the coast by quoting a vituperative bit in the Newport News and lining it up in battle formation alongside of some recent ideas expressed on that subject from Laguna, naturally that calls for action.

"Brick wants to start a debate on the question—Is there a nasty old meany who can eat off more fish than he can catch, or is he one of nature's noblemen, whose gentle barking on the rocks lures legions to our coastline?" "Sam Meyer's Newport News fish department insinuates that because the seals assertedly kill more fish than they can eat, they, the seals, should all be taken out and shot at sunrise. In other words, the law protecting them should be abolished. Which would mean that in less than a week there wouldn't be a solitary seal left on the Pacific coast. That's what fishermen think of seals."

"Even if a seal does kill more fish than he can eat, what about the hundreds of human anglers who pull in 150 to 200 pounds of fish in an afternoon? Neither he nor his family and all their relatives can eat that much fish—

STAR BOAT REGATTA MAY BE TAKEN FROM NEWPORT BEACH BOARD WILL TAKE VOTE JAN. 16

May Move Headquarters For Annual Event To 'Keep Up Interest'

NEWPORT BEACH.—The governing board of the International Star Class Yachting association will hold a meeting in New York Jan. 16 to decide whether the 1936 International Star regatta will be held at Newport harbor next August.

The location of the star championship automatically comes to Newport harbor according to former customs, because the winning club holds the races the following year. It is pointed out by Corinthians that to keep up interest in the races a change in place would draw a large entry list.

The governing committee will vote on three propositions, the third of which concerns skippers of this coast. The proposition reads: "The 1936 series shall be held in North America on the waters of a fleet and district which, if possible, has never held the event before, the place to be selected by the governing committee. This action is no reflection on the ability of the Newport harbor fleet to properly conduct the event in 1936, but is taken for the future welfare of the star class as a whole and to properly inaugurate the new system."

baked, boiled, fried or raw. "Wolves of the sea! Destroyers of the innocent," is the platform of the opposition, which recommends that something be done about them. What about pelicans? They live on fish too. Not to mention dozens of other varieties of birds.

"Seals, like humans, are on the top of the scale. They have no natural enemies that constantly prey on them as a source of food. Like lions of the jungle, seals are kings of the puddle."

"In a way, perhaps, that makes the fish 'innocent.' But even so, they've been surviving the ravages of seals and their ilk for countless centuries, and there are still plenty more fish in the ocean.

"As for their barking propensities, it's still an unsettled question among local residents whether their gregarious growls are civic-minded or purely personal patter. Like—'Get away from my wife, you big fat lummox!' Or—'Go lie on your own rock, punk!'"

"In the day time they do lots of complaining about the weather. Or whatever they talk about. But toward sundown they settle down to some concerted barking that can be heard for blocks around. Probably the old man has just come home from a business trip out of town and is telling the little lady about some of his adventures abroad. Then the assembled wives relate the virtues of the home shores and how glad they are to have them back in the fold.

"This particular pack of seals consists of only about 20 or 30 members. Supposing they do indulge occasionally in a playful fishing orgy, killing more than they can eat, that only proves what good sadists they are or else displays a superb sense of humor. "Another thing. What about the recent bans on purse-seiners? Enough fish should be saved by these restrictions to more than supply the seals with food. Millions of sardines are used yearly for fertilizer. A few might be saved for our picturesque seals.

"Resolved, then, that seals are picturesque addition to any stage or community. That their haunting barks lure legions to our coastline. That they should be allowed to be themselves and have their fun wherever they find it. That there are plenty of fish in the ocean for everybody, including seals.

"After all, a seal can bounce a ball off his nose and catch it. All a fish can do is look sad."

Basketball Bonanza

Rasslin' Natural

Short Stuff

Just at the moment basketball stands in a fair way of returning to popularity in a large way.

A record crowd of 18,000 persons saw California's Golden Bears lose to New York University in the big town last night. Madison Square Garden was packed to the rafters.

All that basketball needs to catch public favor is to make a few changes. One of these should be to eliminate the center-jump system which puts such a premium on "beanpole" players. This method of putting the ball in play has drawn a lot of criticism because it places too much emphasis on the height of a player.

Elimination of the center-jump would do much to speed up the game and make it more of a five-man affair—more of a competition between squads. As the game becomes faster it will draw increasingly larger crowds.

Several teams on the Pacific coast experimented with dropping the center-jump last year and were very happy over it.

A widespread change of rules in this respect certainly is on the horizon at this time. Most of those who seek a change advocate placing the ball in play from out of bounds after a field goal is scored.

Cleaver Sam Sampson has cooked up his best boxing card of the past season here tonight. He sends eight boys from the Sherman Institute, Riverside, into the ring against the pick of Orange county boxers. Lupe Cordoza, Sailor Hips, Art Arroya, Raoul Solis, Tino Munoz, and Sator Mullins, all favorites, face the redskins.

Sam has another hot evening coming up Monday. He has Nick Lutze on the line to fight Willie Davis and if ever there was a "natural" in the annals of Orange county rassing this is it. Davis is the villain, of course, and has more ring-side enemies than anyone in the business—and enemies mean box office appeal. Lutze, on the other hand, has more loyal followers than any grappler showing here. Sator Szabo and Champion Vincent Lopez drew packed houses when they fought Davis, but Lutze should entice even more spectators.

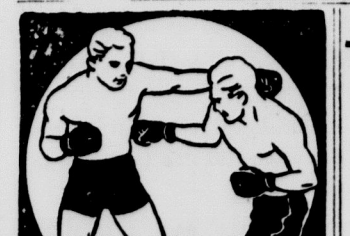

Short stuff: Let's nominate Detroit for the "championest" city. The auto city holds the world's baseball and pro football titles, the speedboat championship via Gar Wood and his Miss America's and the "uncrowned heavyweight champion" in Joe Louis. The Brooklyn Dodgers now have a Butcher as well as a Baker on their pitching staff. Tom Baker was at the Orlando training camp last spring; the new man, Alfred Maxwell Butcher, won 11 straight for Gateway in the early part of the 1935 season.

The Chicago Bears weren't contenders in the pro grid title play-off game, but the Bears can find solace in the distinction they gained an average of 288 yards per game in 12 games. The Boston Redskins constituted the strongest defensive team, holding their opponents to 192 yards in 11 contests. Gene Lillard, Pacific Coast league home run king, signed by the Cubs for 1936, probably got the home run idea from the reception that greeted his first homer as a Wichita player. He got $100 in merchandise as a prize and since then hasn't bothered much about singles. He tries for the fences.

CORDOZA BATTLES INDIAN BOXING STAR

CAVALCADE IS HANDED 127 POUNDS

Vanderbilt Entry Gets 'Break'; Top Row To Pack 116 In Classic

By PAUL ZIMMERMAN

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 19. (AP)—Discovery appeared destined today to become the odds-on favorite in the second running of the world's richest stake—the Santa Anita $100,000 handicap.

While A. G. Vanderbilt's great 4-year-old chestnut colt was assessed top weight of 130 pounds by Webb Everett, racing secretary of the Los Angeles Turf club, the leading stake winner of 1935 profited especially over one of his keenest rivals during the summer season, little Top Row, on the basis of weights distributed in Eastern events.

Second to Discovery in the handicapping announced yesterday was Cavalcade, frequent winner over the Vanderbilt colt in 1934, at 127 pounds. Head Play, on his sensational comeback of last season, was listed third at 121 pounds.

One of the surprises was the placing of Flamenco, British thoroughbred, fourth at 120 pounds. Azucar, winner of the Inaugural and the highest prize ever pulled down by a race horse at $102,400, stood fifth at 118. A pound more than he carried to victory last February.

Top Row, the former claiming horse owned by A. A. Baroni, and Besenmont of the Foxcatcher farm, were assessed 116 pounds each. Ladysman, second to Azucar in the 1935 race, will carry 115 pounds in the boot, two less than he packed in the inaugural. The third place horse a year ago, Time Supply, received a four-pound reduction, with a 114-pound impost.

The 130-pound limit put on the mite and a quarter event a year ago was largely responsible for the advantage gained by Discovery over such promising nominees as Top Row, Time Supply, Whopper and others.

Using the Massachusetts handicapper as a common denominator, the Vanderbilt star profited to the extent of 8 pounds over Top Row, 10 over Whopper and 7 at the expense of Time Supply.

In this race Discovery went to the post at 138 pounds, and finished third, less than a neck behind Top Row, which won, packing 116. Whopper, owned by H. P. Headley, was second by a nose, with a 30-pound bulge over the Vanderbilt horse.

Cavalcade, should he train back to his 1934 Kentucky Derby winning form, would stand an excellent chance of beating Discovery, but the condition of the Brookmeade stable colt still is a matter of conjecture.

LUTZE BEATEN BY G. CALZA

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 19. (AP)—George Calza, 210-pound Italian, increased his wrestling reputation with a victory in straight falls over Nick Lutze, 200, Venice, Cal. A body slam felled Lutze in 22 minutes, 32 seconds, last night. The big beach matman lost the second fall in 1 minute, 11 seconds, when Calza clamped on a toe hold.

BEARS LOSE TO NEW YORKERS

NEW YORK, Dec. 19. (AP)—New York University's veteran team spoiled California's eastern debut last night when they turned back the Golden Bears, 41 to 26, before a basketball record crowd of 18,000 that packed Madison Square Garden to the rafters.

The New Yorkers, with Len Madman leading the attack, piled up a 17-to-9 lead at the half and then turned the game into a rout before they handed the reserves a 35-to-11 advantage with only eight minutes to play.

Mrs. Anne Townsend compiled low gross and Mrs. Ludy Schaffer scored low net in a "ladies' day" golf tournament sponsored by the Willowick course yesterday. The players were luncheon guests in the home of Mrs. Charles Chapman, Lemon Heights.

The 1935 Chapter for Track History Written in One Day by Jesse Owens

By TOM PAPROCKI

New York, Dec. 19. (AP)—The star of Jesse Owens, Ohio State university's amazing track and field athlete, blazed brilliantly to provide 1935 with one of the brightest chapters in the history of the track and field sport.

His phenomenal exhibition on the afternoon of May 25, at Ann Arbor, Mich., on the occasion of the Big Ten track and field championships was easily the greatest one-man show in the annals of foot-racing.

That afternoon Owens shattered three world records—running 220 yards in 20.3 seconds and the 220-yard low hurdles in 22.6 seconds, and broad-jumping 26 feet 8 1/2 inches. Previously that same day he equaled the world mark of 9.4 seconds for the 100-yard sprint.

Mastered by Peacock The Ohio State Negro performed other prodigious feats in the spring outdoor meets and was all-conquering until he met his match in Bulace Peacock, of Temple university, in the national A. A. U. championships at Lincoln, Neb., early in July. Peacock led him to the tape in the 100 meters and made it a double conquest by winning the broad jump with a leap of 26 feet 3 inches. Owens also bettered the mark on the books with a jump measuring 26 feet 2 1/2 inches.

Aside from the marks shattered by Owens only one new world mark of consequence was established. That was Keith Brown's skyscraping vault of 14 feet 5 1/2 inches at the Intercollegiate A. A. U. outdoor championships. It was his last victory appearance in the Yale blue. The 120-yard hurdles mark of 14.2 seconds was tied on three occasions by Tom Moore, Phil Cope and Roy Staley, California collegians.

JESSE OWENS

Glenn Cunningham started the year auspiciously by winning several feature mile races over his old rivals, Gene Venzke and Bill Bonthron, on Eastern indoor tracks. His best performances were in the Easter mile at the New York Athletic club's games won in 4:09.8 and his 3:50.5 for the 1500 meters at the national indoor championships.

The Kansas miler met his Waterloo at the Princeton Invitation meet in June when Jack Lovelock of New Zealand easily out-footed him in the "Mile of the Century" before 40,000 track and field enthusiasts. The time was 4:11.2—much slower than Cunningham's 4:06.7 world record made on the same track in 1934. Manhattan and Trojans Triumph Manhattan college successfully defended its indoor I. C. 4-A team championship and Southern California captured the outdoor track and field title. The Trojans also added the National Collegiate A. A. U. team trophy to their collection.

The Midwest continued to show the greatest strength in cross-country rivalry. John Edward Bechtold, Michigan State captain, won the individual title and paced his teammates to the I. C. 4-A cross-country championship over the new five-mile mark course in New York. Don Lash, former Indiana star, repeated as national A. A. U. cross-country champion without serious challenge.

Johnny Kelley won the Boston marathon classic to take his place as the leading candidate for a berth on the 1936 Olympic marathon team.

Recognized as two of the ablest quietists of the major division, Santa Ana's Saints and Redondo's Seahawks begin their quest for the Southern Counties Invitational basketball championship on the floor of the sponsor—Huntington Beach—at 8:30 o'clock tonight.

The first night's program will open with a minor division tussle between Laguna Beach and Chino at 6:30, followed by an intermediate division game between Orange and Downey at 7:30. Then the Saints and Seahawks will parade in the major division feature.

Sophomore Larry Tway, brilliant reserve forward, is returning to his former home in Arizona for the Christmas holidays, but will be available for tonight's round. Ervin Youel and Bill Milligan, forwards; Ed Eastham, center; Bill Flood and Sam Lockhart, guards, will start against Redondo. Other Saints making the trip are Harold Eastham, Bill Musick and Merle Morris, guards; Byron Barnett and Jim O'Connell, forwards.

The tournament, running through Saturday night, opened this afternoon with a minor division contest between Tustin and San Juan Capistrano at 2:30. Newport Harbor and Inglewood Leuzinger of the intermediates, were to play at 3:30. Fullerton and Compton of the majors at 4:30. If Santa Ana trumps Redondo tonight, the Saints will face the winner of the Fullerton-Compton brush Saturday, probably in the afternoon. Finals in all divisions will be conducted Saturday night. Twenty-four schools are competing.

Regarding the old-time form that made them champions last winter, Manager Quentin Matzen's Millers dusted off Costa Mesa by the overwhelming score of 60 to 24 last night, indicating they may overthrow Darwin Scott's first-half kings next month and thereby cause a three-game play-off.

DON CAGEMEN CLASH WITH TARTARS

Reboin's Gang Goes Up Against Compton At Local Gym Tonight

Their second taste of junior college basketball opposition awaits Santa Ana's Dons in Andrews gymnasium at 8 o'clock tonight.

After a brief losing streak with a series of makeshift lineups, Coach Alvin Reboin's Dons showed a reversal in form while downing Occidental junior college, 24-18, last week. They are gradually beginning to display new life.

Compton Strong Young Gordon Clark's Compton Tartars, outlived members of the Western jaycee division, boast a trio of sharpshooters in Steve Belko, Dick Yorston and Carl (Whitey) Hallen. The Dons expect a more exciting evening than furnished by Occidental.

Compton beat Riverside, 24-19, but lost to Pasadena. Letterman John Henry will move into Santa Ana's regular lineup in the absence of Clarence (Tay) Riggs, who has left to spend the Christmas holidays with relatives in Illinois. Henry is as good as Riggs anyway, so the Don offense will not be weakened.

Lacy and Lockhart Fred (Big Boy) Erdhaus, letterman center, has yet to display the basket-hitting ability shown at times last winter, but Coach Reboin hopes to see him out loose in any game now. Tom Lacy, medium-sized forward who won all-conference recognition as a freshman, thus far has sparked the Don offense, assisted by Len Lockhart, alert guard. Lacy, Lockhart, Henry and Erdhaus will be in Reboin's starting lineup with Harry Stanley, ex-Tustinite, Bob Browning, center; Ken Nissley and Bill Greshner, forwards; and John Jennison, will be among the available understudies.

Lefty Grove Best 'Peach' In A.L. Crop

Hailed the "lemon" of 1934, Robert Moses (Lefty) Grove this year became the best peach in the American League harvest, winning 20 games and losing but 12.

By PAUL MICKELSON

CHICAGO, Dec. 19. (AP)—Robert Moses Grove, the $125,000 Boston "lemon" of 1934, was the sweetest peach of the American league pitching crop in 1935. Base ball experts, who said the great southpaw was a all washed up last year when his buggy whip left ached with pain every time he tried to use it, probably will blink their eyes today as they gaze at the official pitching record for 1935. Topping them all from the standpoint of earned run averages is the same Lefty Grove.

Grove, who ranked 63rd among 65 American league pitchers a year ago, made such a spectacular comeback that he won 20 games, lost 12 and turned in an official average of 2.70 or 32 ahead of his closest rival, Ted Lyons of the White Sox, who teamed with Grove and other vets in winning comeback drives. In 273 innings pitched, only 82 runs were scored off Grove's southpaw slants. In '34, he won only eight games and had an earned run average of 6.52.

Although Grove is listed in No. 1 position on the official averages, the hot stove league can argue over the winner of the all-around pitching championship among him; Wesley Ferrell, who won 25 games; and Eldon Auker of Detroit, who led in winning percentage with a record of 15 victories and seven defeats for a .720 mark.

Ferrell, who won only a total of 25 games in the 1933 and '34 seasons, pitched the most innings, 322, and tied Earl Whitehill of Washington in allowing the most runs, 149. Auker had an earned run average of 3.83, as compared with Ferrell's 3.52. Lefty Gomez, New York, 1934 champion with 26 victories and five defeats, won 12 and lost 15 games last season but was well up in the earned run list with an average of 3.18.

Tommy Bridges was the strike-out king with 163 victories and Schoolboy Rowe second with 140. Bridges also won nine straight games, the longest winning streak of the year. Merrit (Sugar) Cain of the Athletics allowed the most bases on balls, 123.

Weather permitting, it looks like the first capacity crowd for a boxing show since the Holzhauser-Hips battle several months ago.

COUNTY BOYS FACE EIGHT REDSKINS

Sherman Institute Of Riverside Sends Best Performers Here

The Fighting Red-Skins of the Sherman Indian school of Riverside—eight of the most colorful scrappers in the amateur division and the same squad, with on exception, that almost stamped the recent Golden Gloves tourney staged at Hollywood—swing into action here tonight against the cream of the amateur parading under the colors of the Orange County Athletic club.

Ranging from bantamweights to lightweights the Sherman Indians make their bow to local boxing followers in the final amateur boxing show of the 1935 season at the Orange County Athletic club.

Hips on Top Although to Sailor Hips, the navy light-heavyweight who will represent the O. C. A. C. against Ernie Collins, goes the main event honors, the real highlight of the eight-bout program is the semi-final, a rematch, between Lupe Cordoza and Jimmy King.

Meeting at Hollywood last week, these two boys staged the greatest fight of the tourney, with King declared the winner amid an ovation that Hollywood seldom, if ever, gave a boxer.

Veteran boxing men claim that no champion ever received the applause at Hollywood that King received. Fans cheered him for fully 10 minutes.

Cordoza claims that he really won the fight and his handlers do so much "beefing" that for a time it appeared as though the state athletic commission would be forced to settle the argument.

Tonight Lupe gets his opportunity to prove that he is a better fighter than the Indian. The match borders on that of a "grudge affair" and both boys should be out to pump each other full of red hot leather.

From the west until the closing fight, amateur stars perform. Every man on the card has boxed main events from Sailor Moon Mullins to Sailor Hips.

Sam Sampson has selected such lads as Raoul Solis, Sailor Bowen, Art Arroya, Don Ben-zor, Tino Munoz and Sailor Mullins to represent the local club while the Indians are sending Lester Reymus, Ray Valenzuela, Clyde Lewis, Lester Oliver, Eddie Moore and Clarence Menta here.

The Santa Ana lightweight, Raoul Solis, makes his third start in his comeback drive in the special event, facing Lester Reymus; Bowen tackles Valenzuela; Arroya meets Lewis; Ben-zor opposes Oliver; Munoz tangles with Moore and Moon Mullins opens the show against Menta.

Weather permitting, it looks like the first capacity crowd for a boxing show since the Holzhauser-Hips battle several months ago.

REGISTRATION DATA GIVEN FOR CARS

The renewal period for the registration of automobiles will be between Jan. 2 and midnight, Jan. 30, according to an announcement today by Capt. Henry C. Meehan of the California Highway Patrol. The registration fee itself will be based upon the actual valuation of the car, and those who fail to register before the Jan. 30 deadline will have to pay a penalty equal to the amount of the fee itself, Captain Meehan said.

"There are a few do's and don'ts in relation to the re-registration of cars that I believe the public should be made aware of," Captain Meehan said. "In the first place, don't wait until the last day to pay the fees. When you do come into the office, bring your 1935 ownership certificate, properly validated by the county assessor, and the card which you will receive from Sacramento setting forth the amount of the vehicle license fee to be paid."

For the first time since the organization of the highway patrol, Orange county residents will be able to obtain license plates and pay their fees at the highway patrol office, room 106, courthouse, Santa Ana. License plates also may be procured through the auto clubs as in the past, Captain Meehan said.

NEW CAR AUTHORIZED

The board of supervisors this week authorized District Attorney W. F. Menton to purchase an automobile for use of the district attorney's office. The car will be an addition to the present equipment.

HIGH COURAGE

SYNOPSIS: As Nikki Nielsen, Anne Farnsworth is living among the fishermen at Union Town, trying to learn something about her own past, to find out what is wrong between the fishermen and the Farnsworth cannery, and to determine what her course shall be as to her lost share of the Farnsworth fortune. Now Tom Farley, her worst enemy and the man at present in control of the cannery, has ruined a net belonging to the Sorki brothers, Anne's protectors. The clan has met to see what shall be done.

Chapter 31 STORM SIGNAL

"Let's forget Tom Farley," she begged, "let's laugh at him. I'll buy a new net, and next winter after you've mended your old one we'll try to sell it."

Relieved, and with Anne's check for a new net in their hands, the Jennie's doctor decided there was nothing wrong with her but nerves and advised a sea trip, so we're heading south to San Francisco, from where we'll embark on the first of the month for a South American cruise.

"There's a letter in your room, Nikki," she said.

There were two, enclosed in one envelope from Judge Kellogg's office. Anne opened the one in his handwriting first.

Dear Anne, by the time you receive this I'll be on my way to the first vacation I've had in 10 years. Jennie's doctor decided there was nothing wrong with her but nerves and advised a sea trip, so we're heading south to San Francisco, from where we'll embark on the first of the month for a South American cruise.

I'm satisfied you're getting along all right. That snapshot you sent was evidence enough; never saw you look finer.

My partner, Jack Hill, will take care of our affairs while I'm away, forwarding your allowance, and directing any mail that comes in here. Well, be a good girl and take care of yourself. I'll see you around the holidays. Can't you plan to slip up to Portland and have Thanksgiving dinner with us? Jenny joins me in this. She regrets you couldn't have made your home with us, and hoping this finds you cheerful.

Affectionately, Ansel Kellogg.

Anne laid the letter down, a queer sinking feeling taking position of her. Another mainstay gone. One that she needed.

The second letter came from the steps to Nikki's house. But Nikki wasn't home . . . to him. From a vantage point behind the breakfast room curtains, she watched him ascend, listened to his furtive knocking at the door, heard him tip-toeing across the porch to look into the living room window.

He went next to the Hannula home to be met at the door by a woman who smiled and replied to every question with, "I don't know."

Every door that opened to him gave the same answer, for word had gone out the previous night which sealed the lips of the Finnish people against one whom they recognized as a common enemy.

Farley waited a day for the Sorki brothers to put in their claim, then he struck. Anne was home, Tecla having decided it best she stay under cover for a while. Len, the youngest Sorki boy, had taken her place aboard the Nikki, and she, irked by her confinement, was sitting at the western window looking out towards the Pacific.

John was on the Pacific, and now that great expanse of water held personal concern for her.

She saw Liisa turn from the street to the Sorki steps and from the Sorki steps to their own, but she didn't march up in her old arrogant fashion. She came a step at a time, looking suddenly old. Her high, befeathered hat passed the front window slowly. The door opened an inch at a time, and Liisa entered, a bewildered look upon her face.

"Liisa, what's happened?" Anne cried in alarm.

"Nikki," she said in a stunned tone, "I have been fired from the Sorki Fisheries. I, who have worked there for 17 years, have been given two weeks' pay and told to get out. I can't imagine what I did that was wrong."

"Oh, Liisa," Anne threw her arms about her, "you did nothing but take me in, shelter me when they were trying to hurt me."

But Liisa wasn't to be so comforted.

"No," she insisted, "they've been wanting to get rid of me for a long time. Things haven't been handled right there. I used to be given the production sheets to tally with the daily department reports. Now, I'm summing up reports from production sheets alone."

"Nikki," she looked up, her grey eyes solemn, "I think they're keeping two sets of books. I believe the Farleys and Crocker are bleeding the cannery for themselves."

"I know, Liisa. However, if Farley hadn't found I was living with you he wouldn't have been afraid to keep you. He'd have had you stay on to provide him with that one set of books which appear to be right."

"We'll get along, there'll be other jobs," Anne said.

Dog With $27,500 Trust Fund Is Feared Kidnaped

CHICAGO, Dec. 19. (AP) — Fear that Red, a dog with a $27,500 trust fund, was in the hands of kidnapers led to a police investigation today.

Miss Marie Angeris Hunter, Red's guardian, said yesterday the animal has been missing since Monday and she believed he is held for ransom.

Red inherited the trust fund three years ago from Mrs. Alice Hunter, his mistress and foster mother of Miss Hunter.

TOOTH KIWANIAN IS INITIATED

The Santa Ana Kiwanis club yesterday initiated into the organization its hundredth member. The new member is Harry E. Harlow, automobile specialist.

Kiwanians sang a swan song for their retiring president, Loren Moore, who yesterday presided over his last meeting.

Entertainment consisted of selections sung by a double quartet from the Santa Ana Junior college girls glee club.

J. P. Baumgartner, delivered a eulogy in memory of Vernon Whitson, former president of the club, who passed away last week. Mr. Baumgartner said the thing he had admired most in Mr. Whitson was his sincerity and his willingness to always lend a helping hand.

FARM ADVISOR GIVES HINTS ON ORCHARD HEATING

Hints to citrus growers of Orange county on how to protect their groves from frost, now that the winter season has brought cold weather, were given by Farm Advisor Harold E. Wahlberg in a discussion on orchard heating problems given this week over radio station KREG.

A number of salient points brought out by Mr. Wahlberg were briefly outlined by him as follows:

In this week's radio broadcast program given by the agricultural extension service over station KREG, Farm Advisor Harold E. Wahlberg discussed orchard heating problems now commanding the attention of many growers in Southern California. The salient points briefly outlined by the speaker were:

50 to an Acre

In cold areas equip orchards with 50 oil heaters per acre. Each heater should hold nine gallons of fuel. If coke heaters are used, more units per acre are needed.

Heating is the only approved protection for citrus against frost. Improved types of windjammers are in use, but it is questionable as to their ability to protect from frost in the case of a high ceiling.

Each grower should have on hand storage facilities for three fillings for his heaters. If all heaters in Southern California were to burn dry in one night it would take 3000 cars of oil to replace the oil burned.

Oil heaters should be all carefully regulated in order to be operated economically and reduce smoke.

Use good thermometers. Have them tested each year by the fruit frost service, and watch them carefully during the heating operation.

Need Good Torches

Use well-built torches, determining definitely whether the spout

LIFE IN 1935

2. Attention on Supreme Court

Accustomed to looking toward the White House or the capitol for federal acts which affected his daily life, the "average citizen" found the supreme court demanding his attention in 1935.

Second in a series of 12 daily articles, this story discusses some of the federal government's major activities during 1935 as they related to the average person.

By HERBERT YAHRAES (Associated Press Staff Writer)
The strings that controlled many of the material phases of John Smith's life remained in Washington during 1935.

What happened along the Potomac was at least as vitally important to him this year as the developments of extraordinary 1933, 1934.

There was his big difference: During the first half of the Roosevelt administration, John Smith was inclined to look first to the White House and then to the capitol to learn how the recovery and reform program would affect him. This year he eyed the supreme court.

"Checks and Balances"
He understood what the history books meant when they discussed the American governmental system of "checks and balances." And he realized that the nine black-robed justices could and did affect his manner of living.

He saw it most clearly when the supreme court voided NRA, throwing out government regulation of hundreds of industries which employ millions of workers and produce goods or service for practically the entire nation.

With the Blue Eagle dead, John Smith no longer could look to the government to back up agreements for minimum wages, maximum hours.

Many called the decision a "death blow" to decent competition and workers' standards; others saw it a "life saver" for business. One of its results was to push or organized labor's drive for collective bargaining guarantees—later provided in the Wagner measure, prohibiting employer interference with labor organization and bargaining.

Home Modernization
But the fate of this law also might hang up a high court ruling. Other measures, close to the average person, and upon which the

2317 TO GET WPA CHECKS ON DEC. 24

Christmas will come on Dec. 24 to 2317 Works Progress administration workers in Orange county. County WPA Director Dan Mulhannon announced today that all pay checks up to and including Dec. 20 will be paid on the day before Christmas, in order to give workers a chance to buy presents and prepare for their Christmas.

A check on the amount of the payroll was not obtainable, it being explained that payrolls are made up in San Diego and not handled directly through the Santa Ana office.

Mulhannon said 1839 men and 436 women on the WPA work rolls in the county, and 34 men and eight women are doing non-relief work.

2 DRUG STORES CHANGE HANDS

Announcement was made today of the purchase of the K. B. Drug stores at Main and Sixth streets and Broadway and Second streets by Charles R. Warfel and associates, from Frank Koss, president of the K. B. Drug company.

The newly organized concern, members of which were not mentioned in the announcement, will reorganize the two stores and operate them under the name of manager of the Second and the Broadway stores.

Telford Thompson was named as Broadway store, and Seymour Brown, formerly of the Rexall Drug store at 108 West Fourth street, will be in charge of the Sixth and Main street store.

Mr. Koss will take charge of the Rexall store at 108 East Fourth street, which formerly operated as Kelly's Drug company. The change in ownership was effective yesterday.

supreme court was expected to pass, included: the Guffey coal bill, setting up a commission in the soft coal industry to draft codes containing wage, hour and fair practice standards; and the agricultural adjustment administration's processing taxes—levied on certain farm products before they reach the consumer and used to compensate the farmer for controlling production.

Interested in Electricity
Uncle Sam seemed to take particular interest in John Smith's electric equipment. In newspaper advertisements, bill boards, show windows, Mr. Smith was informed the government gladly would help him buy his electric washer, his refrigerator, his radio. The help came in the payment terms—Mr. Smith was encouraged to buy at nothing down and a little a month over a long time.

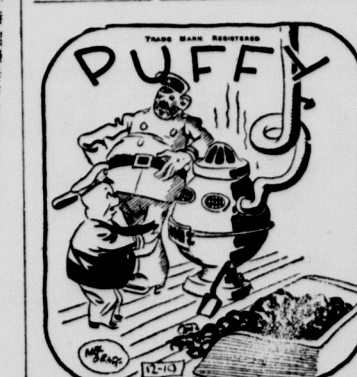

This was part of the home modernization program pushed by the federal housing administration. John Smith could get loans for a number of other purposes too, from patching a leaky roof to installing a bathroom or completely remodeling his home.

Social Security
The FHA also stood ready to assist him in buying a house. Up to Nov. 16, the administration had insured home mortgage loans totaling $222,113,000, home modernization loans totaling $212,544,000. Funds were provided by private financial institutions under government guarantee.

Of all this federal legislation, perhaps John Smith stood to be affected most by the social security measure, providing for old-age pensions and unemployment insurance. Just what the legislation would mean to him depended to a great extent upon what cooperative measures his state put into effect.

Remembering 1933's "bank holiday," he saw the temporary law insuring bank deposits up to $5000 made permanent; saw, too, a new tax law hiking the levies on large estates, gifts, big incomes.

EX-MATE OF FALL VICTIM IS JAILED

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 19. (AP) Thomas L. Matkins waited in jail today while police pried deeper into events preceding the death plunge of his divorced wife, Olga Steck, former Ziegfeld Follies beauty, from his twelfth story hotel room.

Police were frankly skeptical of Matkins' story that he was "sure" Miss Steck "jumped from the window." He said he had heard a "swish" behind him while he was packing a bag and when he turned Miss Steck was gone. "We don't believe Matkins is telling the truth," Inspector Allen McGinn said. "There was a violent quarrel and we want to find out what it was about."

Matkins appeared at police headquarters several hours after the crumpled body of the 38-year-old woman was found in a light-well yesterday.

SUICIDE IS VERDICT

A coroner's jury yesterday brought in a verdict of suicide following an inquest into the death early Tuesday of Carmen Mosqueda, 23, tuberculosis patient at the Orange county hospital, who assertedly threw himself beneath the wheels of a Southern Pacific freight train at the Santa Ana river crossing.

Blue, Silver Christmas Scene Created at Country Club for Dinner Party

M'Mullens Realize a 'Double-Duty' With a Two-Piece Marian Martin Frock

Entertain Friends
Contract Bridge Play
Follows Dinner Hour,
Prizes Awarded

A fairyland of Christmas beauty was created in the Santa Ana Country clubhouse by Mrs. Benjamin McMullen last evening for the dinner party at which she and Mr. McMullen were hosts to 45 of their friends.

Using the blue and silver motif innovated this season, the hostess seated her guests at a large U-shaped table.

Silvered lilies flowers in a low spun-silver bowl marked the head of the table. On either side were two heavy silver bases holding deep blue tapers. The table-enders were marked by Christmas trees shimmering in cellophane, silver and blue bangles.

Three silver-crystal balls in deep blue goblets added a decorative touch. The sides of the table U were centered with silver Santa Clauses driving silver reindeer through a whirl of cellophane snow. Conventional clusters of blue crystal grapes in silver foliage completed the beautiful appointments.

Guests found their places by means of silver monogrammed cards. Behind the table stood the country club's huge Christmas tree with its blanket of glittering ornaments, and at the open end of the U was a towering bouquet of white chrysanthemums, blue delphinium and babies breath.

After dinner the guests played contract bridge. Prizes were wrapped in blue cellophane with sprigs of silver foliage.

Mrs. I. F. Landis wore an exquisite bit of lingerie for her contract bridge prowess. Alvin Drumm received a billfold, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Chenoweth were given silver candelabra, and A. G. Flagg won a lucky prize.

Captain Reed Farwell led in prompt singing.

Included in the guest list were Messrs. and Mesdames E. D. White, L. A. Chenoweth, R. C. Hoiles, W. H. Spurgeon, H. H. Harwood, C. V. Davis, A. G. Flagg, H. B. Van Dien, R. G. Tuthill, A. I. Mellenthin.

PATTERN 9669

With versatility the spice of modern life, smart young things naturally elect that frock which permits them the largest number of combinations with other skirts, sweaters or blouses. And what fun it is to "scramble" their own! This youthful model is just as happy worn as sketched—with both pieces matching in, let's say, a soft-hued rabbit's hair woolen, or serviceable jersey. Playing up contrast—its softly tailored lines would be ever so attractive with jersey blouse, and skirt of Scotch plaid or tweed. Wool-appearing cotton would also fit the bill—or velvet, if it's a dressier type frock you wish. Think up your own combination, and the "crowd" will be envious! Complete, diagrammed Marian Martin sew chart included.

Pattern 9669 may be ordered only in sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, 32, 34, 36, 38, and 40. Size 16 requires 2½ yards 54 inch fabric.

Send 15 cents in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for each Marian Martin pattern. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, the style number and size of each pattern.

The new Marian Martin pattern book will be ready for mailing December 18. Place your order now, and be among the first to receive a copy. It's a practical pattern book that interprets spring's new fashions in thrifty, easy-to-make clothes for the whole family! Price of book 15 cents. Book and a pattern together, 25 cents.

Send your order to The Santa Ana Journal, pattern department, 117 East Fifth street, Santa Ana.

The garden section was announced to meet at the home of Mrs. J. W. Newell, Dec. 31. The book-lovers' section will meet Jan. 13 at the home of Mrs. W. J. Travers, Fullerton. Mrs. Harold Hale announced an evening party, planned for Jan. 3, at the clubhouse.

Had been postponed, and that the next special event would be a bridge tea at the home of Mrs. Gilbert Kraemer, Jan. 29.

Mrs. John C. Tuffree, chairman of public welfare, announced the "white gift" her committee will sponsor at the clubhouse Monday afternoon for children of the community. A program will be given by boys and girls of the Mexican mission.

Mrs. E. M. Everett told Christmas plans for James Clifton, disabled war veteran adopted by the club.

Mrs. Albert Launer discussed Christmas.

Mrs. Melvin Salveson presented the musicians who provided the program, Enona Hopkins and Catherine Jackson, harpists, Georgia Williams, violinist, and Margaret Messer, soprano, L'Ensemble Bolienne.

The hostesses, Mrs. W. J. Travers, Miss Avis Knott, Mrs. C. A. Cuff, Mrs. S. S. Twombly, Mrs. John C. Tuffree, Mrs. H. S. Kerkey, Mrs. C. H. Seamans and Mrs. J. J. Farley, served tea and "snowball" cakes to more than 125 members and guests. Mrs. C. Chapman and the club president, Mrs. Frank Rospaw, poured.

The next club meeting will be Jan. 13.

MRS. J. O. SMITH GIVES RECITAL-FETE FOR STUDENTS

"Life On The Dole" Doesn't Attract the American Woman Who Believes In Independence

By MARY STODDARD

It's encouraging to realize, every now and then, that the great American quality of independence has not been entirely crushed out during the depression. Even though many people have the idea that the world owes them a living and they're going to sit back and take it, they're not the majority.

A woman I overheard on the streetcar the other day was talking to a neighbor about a mutual friend, and she said:

"There she is, on relief—and perhaps able to work. I asked her why she didn't take a job doing housework, and she says, 'Me, go into an other woman's kitchen? I should say not!'"

"I don't have any patience with that kind of people. My husband still has a job, even though $2 a day isn't much. But, believe me, I've worked ever since I was 8 years old, and it had to, I'd go into domestic service tomorrow. I'm not going to have the taxpayers supporting me as long as I have health and two good hands!"

She's the sort of energetic person who would do it, too. Domestic service in these days leaves much to be desired, but gradually it's no more of a social "come-down" to assist efficiently in a kitchen than in an office—and it's just such a healthy attitude as that of the woman on the streetcar which will bring about the change.

Participating in the program will be June Clark, Gerry Peck, Mary Nalle, Jane Nalle, Roberta Nichols, Betty Frye, Winifred Pettit, Helen Lowe, Helen Motley, Grace McGay, Janet Ruddiman, Mary Sartor, Betty Neff, Isabey McCormack and Betty Hammond.

Willard Girl Reserves Meet

Girl Reserves of Willard Junior High school met in cabinet session recently at the home of Miss Margaret Glenn, 1602 North Main street.

Present were Lily Yashimi, Louise Bennett, Betty Johnson and Mary Towler.

Anita Potter was elected secretary at the second meeting of the Girl Reserves last Friday.

MESSIAH CHILDREN TO GIVE SHOW

Episcopal Church of the Messiah Sunday school children will gather Monday night at the church parish hall to give a flower opera.

A Christmas tree with presents for all children of the Sunday school has been planned.

The Thinkers

Wherein women of the community express their views on topics of particular interest to women.

What type of charity dispensation do you favor, and why?

Mrs. Roderick Smiley: I'd say one should give anonymously. If you give because you want to, no recognition should be wanted. I'd rather give to a private family or an individual because that way you know who you're helping.

Mrs. J. C. Combs: I think different situations and conditions vary the problem. The value of giving is sometimes lessened when the identity of the donor is known. I'd rather give to an individual. It's more personal.

APPOINTMENTS MADE BY U.S.W.V. AUXILIARY

Appointments were made to executive posts of the United Spanish War Veterans auxiliary Tuesday night in the K. of C. hall.

Bertha N. Dixon was named secretary by the president, Hazel Hall; Elizabeth Moberly, treasurer; Elizabeth Erickson, reporter; Elva Hunt, musician; Marie Lindquist, Alice Gay, Maude Brown, Gertrude Rowe, Bessie Fitzpatrick, Bertha Helmer, Ruth Hess and Emma Wassum, colors.

Jan. 7 a dinner will be held in the K. of C. hall for officers and members.

Initiation was held for Hattie J. Williams, who transferred from Pocatello, Idaho, and Mrs. Florence Winders, Huntington Park, deputy inspector, was a guest.

Estelle Dresser was named chairman of a committee to collect funds for the Soldiers' Widow home in Sawtelle, to be presented in May.

LET'S HAVE MORE DEBATE

NOW that everybody has written his piece and made his speech and everybody else has performed the duty of reading it or listening in; now that everybody has—soon will have—gone to the polls and said yes or no on the water bond question; now that everybody has divested himself of all the charges, countercharges, inference and innuendo in his system—now that it's all over but the shouting, we can look forward to a season of peace on earth, good will toward men, we hope.

Much unnecessary foreign matter has been injected into the water bond campaign which closes, thank Heaven, with today's election. Much has been said which had little bearing on the subject. A lot of old, dry bones have been rattled. In the heat of oratorical flights some men have exchanged unpleasant, albeit sometimes truthful, remarks about each other. Campaigns of a political nature ever were thus and probably always will be. Happily most folks forget all about it a few days after the returns are in and we go about our business as usual, big enough to forget the heat of battle and too big to harbor petty grudges.

The water bond campaign was unusually interesting, we thought, by reason of the debates. This old-fashioned American idea of reaching the voters and settling disputes was made good use of. Many were informed who otherwise would have not taken the pains to study the problem. There were fiery speeches and there was much of the old-time campaign ardor about it all. We think the debaters ought to continue. There is a political campaign coming on. Next year's national contest will attract and hold the attention of all of us. There are many great issues on which we are divided or on which we have no opinion at all. Why not keep the debates going? The public will soon say whether it likes them or not.

HOOVER'S RELIEF PLAN

HERBERT HOOVER, America's No. 1 Republican, has a relief plan which he proposes as a substitute for the New Deal setup.

Declared Mr. Hoover the other night in St. Louis: As the New Deal always demands alternative plans, I offer four:

1. Stop these wasteful federal public works projects; confine them to projects which meet the needs of the nation.
2. Decentralize the administration of all other forms of relief. Turn them back to the states and local communities. Do it in joint co-operation with the governors, mayors, and county authorities. Enlist again the voluntary services of American men and women on a non-partisan basis. Give such responsible committees as they create the entire determination of how it should be done. Allot to the states less than one-half the present funds being spent in the relief. Require the local authorities to find from their local funds at least 5 per cent as a check on waste. Require the state to do its share. Discharge most of the federal officials connected with these relief agencies. The unemployed will be better cared for than they are today.
3. Do it now. That would go far to assure clean election. But it is more than that. It would relieve human distress which suffers enough without the poison of politics in its bread.
4. We have a further obligation beyond relief to this 10 million unemployed. True relief must come from honest, productive jobs, not from public funds. Those jobs would result quickly if the currency were stabilized and this torrent of unnecessary expenditure were stopped and the budget were balanced. That would recreate confidence in the future. It would relieve the threat of inflation which demoralizes all business and sets up false recoveries. It would start men building again for the future. It would bring into action the vast amount of improvement needed in housing and in machinery, now being worn out through seven years of obsolescence. It would set free the energies of new enterprise. These people on relief have suffered enough from having playboys take America apart to see how the wheels go round.

Mr. Hoover has had an opportunity to watch the relief plans of his successor without having the responsibility of administering them. His suggestions contain food for thought, even though they are offered by a critic known for his party prejudices. Mr. Hoover's friends will commend him for his straightforward comment. His enemies will say Mr. Hoover gave little thought to relief until he began criticizing the other fellow's ideas.

Recent U. S. Treasury report revealed one man in this country had an income of between $6,000,000 and $9,000,000. Poor fellow! Just think of the income tax he had to pay!

THE COMING SESSION

FOR THE new session of congress, we have the administration's promises that: It will be brief; it will attempt no new legislative upheavals; it will impose no heavy new taxation.

The promise certainly conforms to public opinion. Out of the last session of congress we got a huge, undigested mass of new laws, which are largely being administered by people who don't quite understand them. The country ought to have a chance to see how these laws work out, amend them if they need it, abolish those that don't achieve their object.

In most ways, the country seems to be progressing satisfactorily. Business is better. We are trying to stop the terrible effects of the dole and get people to honest work, instead. Rough spots are being ironed out. There are great plans afoot for a revival of building. Real estate values are coming back. There is a determined body of sound opinion against inflation.

It is obviously the duty of congress not to rock the boat. We have got the machinery working again; it should be given a chance. Until we are definitely in calm water again, let us let well enough alone.

Next year is election year. The temptation of congressmen and senators to play politics will be strong. They should forget, for a few weeks, that they are politicians, and be Americans.

The wholehearted wish of Americans about the 1936 session is: "Get it over with!" Congress should heed that wish.

Somerset Maugham, glutton with the roar of the crowd, fairly drooped through New York on his way to the Caribbean recently. He appeared very wrinkled, extremely fatigued and waved his gold-rimmed monocle at interviewers with an attitude of defeat.

One thing of which he is certain. He will never write another play. And for him Hollywood gold has no glitter. He will concentrate solely on writing novels and short stories. Almost any magazine will take all he turns out and cry for more. His American audience is as eager as his British.

He has an autobiography finished and will turn it over to a publisher when he has thought up a title. A title to him is enormous. He works over it often longer than the novel. His preference is for the prepositional. Such as "Of Human Bondage."

Maugham's home when he is not wandering in his chateau on the French Riviera. He has become a social arbiter among expatriates. To be invited to swim in "Willie Maugham's pool" is tantamount to being invited to loll in the reigning dowager's box in the Horseshoe Circle.

Otto Harbach, one of the better known and successful librettists, never carries a cent of money in his pockets. He has a pronounced dislike for paying for things personally, an irritant also to many great men. Robert Louis Stevenson, for instance, and Charles Dickens. Harbach scatters cash around at various clubs and restaurants against which he draws. For more than 10 years he has been moneyless when he left his apartment. In heavier emergencies his chauffeur has a supply of cash handy.

Josephine Baker, the Harlem siren who made good in Paris, is becoming as widely discussed at the cocktail bars as the latest honey of Dotty What's-her-name. La Baker before hiking Hollywoodward went everywhere, into the bars, at the first night club tables and to those dizzy club-conscious teas of the smart alecks. Her French spouts like the sudden geysering of a whale and she can scramble an eye-roll and shoulder shrug as archly as those delectable ladies who affect bangs in Paris. Her major diversion is heckling the dapper and harried, pencil-mustached fellow who says he is an Italian count and to whom she is married.

The editor of an important magazine recently summoned the author of a story which had been rejected because of sheer obscenity. The author belonged to the "speakeasy school of literature" and recently in this maggoty mood perpetrated a fast-selling book, inquired the editor: "Why don't you try writing clean stuff?" The writer replied: "How old are you?" The editor replied: "44." "That," snapped the patron of the swill barrel, "explains your attitude. You are an old dodo and don't know what makes good writing." Whereupon he swung grandly on his heel and departed.

George S. Kaufman continues to be the stage's most expert connoisseur. His style is merciless and nothing is sacred, the attitude of unforgettingness for letting fools delight in the multitude. His most recent collaboration also restored Jane Cowl to her former lofty place in histrionics. The actress has encountered rough going professionally for several seasons and just as they were saying she was through she's out front again.

Another fine actress whose path has been dappled by the uncertainties of her calling comes in for a long run with Miss Cowl's triumph. She is Regina Wallace who has broken the long hoodoo of being unfortunately cast so many times she had almost despaired. But such chance victories make acting the fascinating trade it is.

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON, Dec. 19.—Detailed and confidential reports regarding the mysterious British breakdown, originally accepting the Hoare-Laval peace plan, gradually have trickled back to Washington. They paint a revealing picture. Behind Britain's abject surrender to Mussolini and the sudden willingness to give away half of Abyssinia were six important factors.

One was a report made by British secret agents on Mussolini's naval concentrations and the state of mind of the Italian people. Chief purpose of this was to ascertain whether Mussolini was bluffing when he threatened European war in case of an oil embargo.

The British report satisfied Downing street that he was not bluffing. Submarines were reported already concentrated secretly against English shipping. British agents concluded that the very secrecy of the ship movements betrayed any idea of bluff. They also reported the Italian people ready for war.

NO FRENCH SUPPORT Two was an ultimatum given Sir Samuel Hoare by Premier Laval that while he would support Great Britain publicly, France would not and could not mobilize in case of war.

He pointed out first, that French peasants would not answer a mobilization call. Even more important, the conscript maritime or French naval reserves, who would have to be mobilized first, would not answer a call.

The British were not quite sure at first whether Laval was double-crossing them, so checked his through their own agents. They found Laval was telling the truth. This was what Stanley Baldwin meant when he announced in parliament that his "lips were sealed" regarding certain things.

ARABIA Three was the situation in Egypt—where anti-British riots have been advertised to the world—but also the situation in Arabia which has not been advertised.

There is Ibn Saud, powerful ruler of Arab tribes, has been flitting about lately. Until recently, however, he was much more friendly to Abyssinia, due to the "coran" which tells how a king of Abyssinia once gave refuge to Mohammed. But as the Mediterranean dispute broadened into a clash between Italy and Britain, Ibn Saud veered against the British, with whom he had been allied in the war in the days of Lawrence of Arabia.

What he saw was a chance to conquer the British-supported country of Iraq and OIL. All this had a decidedly dampening effect upon Downing street.

HITLER'S IRONIC POSITION Four was a series of secret negotiations with Hitler. These were held by both the French and British ambassadors in Berlin. They got nowhere.

The extent to which the French and British went in trying to win over the dictators of Nazi Germany was not leaked out by the supreme court. Hearings begin today. One of the newly invented cotton picking machines has been bought in Memphis by an agent of the Argentine government; price, $1965.

thing I can definitely promise you is the Rhine. It will not be violated. Central and Eastern Europe are my field."

CENTRAL EUROPE Five. But it is exactly Central and Eastern Europe that the French and British are worried about.

German strategy in regard to this area has been well known for some time. It is to take over Austria, use this as a stepping stone for annexing Czechoslovakia—which already has over three million Germans—then march into the Ukraine and Russia.

This of course, would be a blow not only to the French-inspired Little Entente, but the preliminary to war in Western Europe.

TROOP TRANSFER Six. Therefore, imagine the consternation of the French when Mussolini suddenly transferred a large portion of his troops from the Brenner pass to the Italo-French border.

The Brenner pass is the gateway between Italy and Austria. Concentrations of Italian troops there have been a constant reminder to Hitler that he could not take Austria without trouble. This was part of the deal between France and Italy, by which France promised Mussolini a free hand in Africa. Mussolini was to watch the Brenner pass.

So what worried the French about the transfer of Italian troops from the Brenner pass to the French border was not danger of war between France and Italy but fear that Hitler might now step into an unguarded Austria.

Mussolini knew this when he moved the troop transfer. He knew it would have a stimulating effect upon Laval. It did. It even stimulated Sir Samuel Hoare.

In addition to these main factors, were, of course, the fact that as long as the British fleet is tied up in the Mediterranean, the Japanese can run amuck in China; to London and Paris that war will mean Communism in Italy, probably France and the rest of Europe.

So Sir Samuel Hoare, British foreign secretary, swallowed the British pride which had been so carefully drilled into him since he was a boy at Eton and accepted what was for Great Britain the most stupendous international retreat of recent history. His resignation followed yesterday.

MERRY-GO-ROUND Sharp competition between TVA and private utility companies—some of which are erecting "spite lines"—indicates there is not much hope in the utility camp that TVA will be thrown out by the supreme court. Hearings begin today.

Mrs. Asa Vandermast and her daughter, Mrs. Walter Price, spent today in Los Angeles.

Santa Ana defeated the All-Stars from Los Angeles here yesterday by a score of 12-0, and "got in good" with the fans again. Slaback was given all gate receipts over expenses for poking out three safe ones in four times to bat. SKINNY SKRIBBLES

Around and About Town

With C. F. (Skinny) SKIRVIN

Frank Andrews and Chet Baxter are trying to persuade each other that an exchange of vehicle tax assessments would be advantageous to both. But the approach has been made with one eye open on both sides. I'll bet that's a transaction which will never get to escrow.

Solicited an assist across the intersection from Hunter Leach, and reached out my hand with the confidence of a little child. When the big bunch of avoidpools lifted me off my feet wondered what was the matter. The rough treatment was understood later when he told me he had the toothache.

A. O. Nelson comes over from East Anaheim to report that a desert wind of mild velocity has been visiting in that vicinity for the past few days. Well, if he can keep it mild and restrict the section to east of Anaheim, the other parts of the county won't object, but how is he to please the Anaheim folks?

There may be an objection to calling orchard heaters "smudge pots" but there was plenty of evidence to support the cognomen Wednesday morning. Somebody had been putting the heat on during the night, and left a cloud of some kind. Maybe it wasn't smudge. Even if it was we don't have to admit it.

The evolution of transportation is depicted on the Union Pacific calendar, from the days of the pony express, covered wagon, Collis Potter Huntington and the golden spike, to the days of the steam locomotive and the streamlined Diesel engine. We still don't know where we are going but we are on our way.

These vehicle license fees make me think about the physician taking your blood count. It's your capital plus your car.

I'm not telling you how to vote on the floor of the bonds, but I do recall when there was a well on a certain property east of Anaheim on Rio Vista street which served at one time 90 acres, and it disappeared from the picture several years ago. And don't tell me I don't know what I'm talking about. It was my well.

I've encountered several 1936 calendars which appear to me to have been sent out before being completed.

One of these days and in the near distant future, Secretary Howard Wood of the chamber of commerce is going to take a considerable portion of the population of Santa Ana to Los Angeles, in acceptance of an invitation from the Los Angeles Times to visit the plant. Guess Howard also intends to take along a program and some oratorical celebrity who can tell the good people over KHJ something about Orange County, its resources, climate, and may we hope ample water supply. Anyway, Santa Ana is going to have its day at the Los Angeles Times, so you people who have been wondering why other cities have been appearing, will soon have the opportunity of visiting in the interest of Santa Ana. And will you do it?

And he thought this was news so he came in to report. Pedestrian says the driver of a taxi cab came to a full stop and motioned for him to proceed across the intersection. He wasn't expecting it. That's why he thought it was news. But he appreciated it, courtesy and said if it became a general practice that taxi-cab service and taxi-cab drivers would become popular.

You won't appreciate the reflected beauty of the Christmas tree on the main floor of the Orange County Title company unless you see it at night when the flood lights are turned on, and the silver and blue brilliance radiates through your system. There is such a contrast between the tree a la natural and after the artificial treatment, especially when it is as well done as the one at it. Might elevate the Christmas spirit and mellow the calouse places in your arteries.

More about the vehicle tax. Asked for advice. My informant said to come in and bring the white slip with me. All right, I'll bring her but what has she to do with the vehicle fee?

Bill Law gets down into the busy business section being led by a little child. It's that time of year when grandsons have not only the persuasion but the authority. Bill, stick to the kid, you won't go wrong.

Holiday shopping could get an additional stimulus if the packing houses distributed the rest of the money due the growers. I'm not complain' personally, 'cause I got mine, but I'm saying a word for the other fellows.

Remarkable Remarks

American life has improved in these two years and a half, and if I have anything to do with it, it is going to improve more in the days to come. — President Roosevelt.

One Man's Opinion

By Duncan Ellsworth Clark

EDITOR'S NOTE—Here is an informative, analytical daily feature on current topics. The opinions expressed in this column are not necessarily the same as those held by The Journal.

America's Neutrality Plan Headed for Trouble

AMERICA'S neutrality program is heading straight for trouble. No great presence was necessary to see that its outcome would penalize Ethiopia and help Italy. Ostensibly designed to cramp the style of the aggressor it has worked just the opposite. This column has repeatedly pointed out that a policy of strict neutrality would be impossible to maintain, and any attempts thereof would mean nothing but grief.

Sanctions, which are only interruptions of trade, to be effective, must be complete. And that means paralysis of world trade and the suspension of all international business. For modern industrial nations are so completely tied together for all the necessities of life, that any severance of normal relations throws the whole machinery out of kilter. And any nation which does this, through design, is not neutral but is guilty of aggression.

Fundamentally, the trouble lies in the greed of industrial imperialism. The scramble for new territory, as a source of raw materials and an outlet for manufactured goods; the utter disregard of native populations; the sole consideration of coining human lives and blood and tears into sordid profits; the seeming necessity of keeping the hungry machine at work; the mutual suspicions, fears and hates which spring from common sources and gnaw away at international goodwill—these factors make it impossible for league powers to act in concert.

With America outside the league that organization never can get going effectively. For all intents and purposes America is well over half the earth. The league cannot function with all of its 50 member nations when half the earth is likely to go off on its own hook any time and any place. No effective sanctions can be applied against any nation as long as America is an unknown factor.

American action is an unknown factor. European nations naturally hesitate to restrict their own traders if such action merely plays into the hands of American exporters.

Shrewdly the league powers adopted President Roosevelt's proclamation as the excuse for inapplying sanctions. That put the moral leadership on America, and lays much of the blame at our door. And there will be plenty of blame coming from Italy and from any other powers, if the war clouds spread. By inference the reaction from Japan will be similar. So there we are. Our puerile attempt to keep out of trouble and still reap profits is dragging us straight into the yawning abyss.
